International Workshop: Were Women present at the Demographic Transition?

Tid: 20-21 Maj 2005

Sted: University of Nijmegen, Holland

The aim of this conference is to look at the role gender played in shifting demographic structures from high levels of celibacy, high rates of births and deaths and late ages at marriage towards more modern demographic structures characterised by low levels of births and deaths, as well as early and universal marriage. This conference therefore wants to look at the role women played in shaping the demographic transition, as well as the way in which gender, as pertaining to men as well as women, was a constituent part of this process of change.

Crossroads: Debating Women's Rights, Racism and Religion

Tid: 30 Maj-1 Juni 2005

Sted: Oslo, Norge

A principal aim of the conference is to initiate dialogue between minority and majority feminist researchers as well as activists and policy-makers. We want to address the complexities surrounding contested issues such as "white" and "black", "majority" and "minority", human rights and freedom of religious beliefs from a feminist perspective.

Gender, Work and Organisation

Tid: 22-24 Juni 2005

Sted: Staffordshire, England

Can a renewed dialogue between feminist theory and leadership studies throw new light on the gendering of leadership as performative – that is sets of repetitive practices that give the appearance of congealed gender (and leadership) identities?
