

First Announcement – NORMA 14, June 3rd – 6th 2014

The Seventh Nordic Conference on Mathematics Education, NORMA 14 will take place in Turku (Åbo), Finland (www.turku.fi) 3–6 June 2014. The theme for the conference is Nordic research in mathematics education.

The conference is hosted by the Department of Teacher Education at the University of Turku and organised in collaboration with NoRME – the Nordic Society for Research in Mathematics Education. NoRME is open for membership from national societies for research in mathematics education in the Nordic and Baltic countries.

The conference will give Nordic and Baltic researchers in mathematics education opportunities to introduce their research by regular (10 pages) and short (1 page) papers, working groups and symposia. The conference is a forum for the discussions and constructive meetings of researchers, teachers, teacher educators, graduate students and others interested in research on mathematics education in the Nordic context. The proceedings of the conference will be published electronically. The official language of the conference is English.

The estimate for the conference payment is 350 euro.

The deadline for the submissions of the regular papers and for the presentations of the symposia is January 5, 2014. The deadline for the submissions of the short communications and working groups is January 31, 2014. Guidelines for papers and for the review process as well as further information about the conference will be published on the NORMA 14 website: <http://www.utu.fi/norma14>. The call for papers will appear on the conference web page by middle of October.
