AN INTERDISCIPLINARY JOURNAL

Call for submissions: 2024 Early-Career-Scholar Essay Contest!

Current early career scholars in any relevant humanities discipline are invited to submit a manuscript (7,500- 9,000 words) for consideration. We are interested in scholarly articles that investigate the critical intersections of the arts and humanities with the aging process.

All submitted manuscripts will undergo a blind-peer review process and will be evaluated by an international jury. The winning manuscript will be published open access in the 2024 issue of Age, Culture, Humanities and receive an official acknowledgment. Before submission, please consult the journal's guidelines for more information.

Submission deadline: 31st December 2023

Available now: Issue 6

Coming soon: Issue 7

Age, Culture, Humanities: An Interdisciplinary Journal is an open access peer-reviewed journal that promotes cross-disciplinary, critical investigations of the experiences of age, aging, and older age, as seen through the lens of the humanities and arts. The goals are to consider age as a category of identity, advance understanding of the aging process and of age differences across the lifespan, interrogate cultural articulations of aging and older age, and generate innovative, engaging scholarly approaches to the study of age and aging in the humanities.
