BRASILIANA: JOURNAL FOR BRAZILIAN STUDIES

Brasiliana is a biannual journal that intends to be a dynamic academic forum whereby scholars from diverse disciplines in Humanities and Social Sciences can publish their research and draw on scholarship within the interdisciplinary field of Brazilian Studies. The journal provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge. Articles published in this journal are submitted to a double-blind peer review procedure. The editors of each issue moderate and supervise the review process, and authors are able to follow each step of it.
