Editorial

The current issue of Danish Yearbook of Musicology (2020–21) presents two articles in Section 1. First, a contribution on Carl Nielsen by Nanna Staugaard Villagomez, considering his ambivalent relation with the music of Richard Wagner and how that might have affected Nielsen's decision to withdraw the lied 'In the Land of Dreams', meant for publication in Nielsen's settings of poems of J. P. Jacobsen, Op. 4. The second article by Alyssa Bree Wells on Hanns Eisler's Das Vorbild concludes the publication of papers from the conference Neue Sachlichkeit, Political Music, or Vernacular Avant-Garde, published in vol. 43.

In Section 2, Jens Henrik Koudal presents a review essay on the development in Swedish music ethnology in the 2010s. Further reviews concern Thomas Solak's guide to functional analysis and the commented, first publication of Paul von Klenau's posthumous memoirs written in Copenhagen during the early 1940s. Section 3 gives a full bibliography of publications related to Danish musicology in 2019; and finally in Section 4, the reader may find an abstract of Thomas Jul Kirkegaard-Larsen's Ph.D. thesis.

The present volume is the last one by the current editors, who have been in charge of the Danish Yearbook of Musicology since vol. 41 (2017). We look forward to presenting a new team for the next volume.
